This agreement is designed to be a working tool to underpin the development and maintenance of an effective supervisory relationship. The agreement should be:

- > completed at the start of a new supervisory relationship, or at the earliest point after that
- > reviewed at least once a year.

The expectations of the organisation regarding supervision are set out within the supervision policy, are non-negotiable, and provide the framework for this agreement.

The effectiveness of the supervision agreement depends upon the quality of conversation between the supervisor and supervisee, and it is very important that this document provides a foundation for discussion. It should be completed at the conclusion of a discussion in supervision rather than filled out at the time.

How might the different roles which the practice supervisor may adopt during supervision affect the relationship? (for example: challenging and broadening the supervisee's perspective, coaching re direct practice skills, seeking the perspective of the person receiving services, giving feedback to improve performance and highlighting examples of effective practice). Has the supervisee had experience of practice supervisors working in this way previously?

| Are there any factors to acknowledge as relevant to the development of the supervisory relationship (e.g. race, culture, gender, sexual orientation, disability, learning difficulties or neurodiversity)? |
